

GERMAN FIGHT ON TIGER CROWS

Thousands Join the Movement to Put Up William F. Grell as an Independent Candidate for Sheriff.

TAMMANY REGARDS IT AS A SERIOUS MENACE.

More than Enough Names Are Already Signed to the Grell Petition, but He Wants to Make Strong Showing.

The "German revolt" against Tammany took definite shape to-day when William F. Grell, the independent candidate for Sheriff of the German Democracy, opened campaign headquarters in Terrace Garden and inaugurated an active canvass for election. The ex-Sheriff's boom was launched last night at a meeting of the United German Societies in Terrace Garden.

The launching of the independent German movement has created consternation at Tammany Hall, where it is regarded as a more serious menace to the success of the ticket than the McLaughlin revolt in Brooklyn.

Mr. Grell when seen to-day in his office at No. 21 Desbrosses street, was up to his ears in the work of getting his name on the ballot as an independent candidate. Persons representing the hundred or more German societies of which Mr. Grell is a member poured in and out of the office exhibiting petitions to which they were obtaining signatures.

"I must present my petition with at least 2,000 names by midnight to-morrow night," said Mr. Grell. "Now, I have far more names than that, but I want to make a great showing, and my friends will work for me without rest until it is time to present the petition."

Opposes Groat and Fornes. "I have not yet decided whether I will announce myself to the people on any particular platform or not. I will say, however, that I am for the open saloon on Sunday. Of course, the Sheriff could not create any such law, but he is the right-hand man of the courts. I intend to vote for Mr. McClellan and work for the Democratic cause, though I will not say that I am going to vote for Mr. Groat and Mr. Fornes. I have at heart only the interests of the plain people."

John Moje, who presided at the Beechthoven Hall meeting and is the active head of the Grell movement, explains the situation in this manner:

"Mr. Murphy seems to think that every German ought to be satisfied with a glass of Sunday beer. He told us that we would do nothing for us because we will have to vote the Tammany ticket whether we want to do so or not. He said that Tammany is the only organization that promises Sunday beer, and that is sufficient for any German. Mr. Murphy also told us that he had picked a German for us to vote for. When we asked for his name we were told that he is Mr. Fornes, who is a Frenchman, and has never claimed to be anything else."

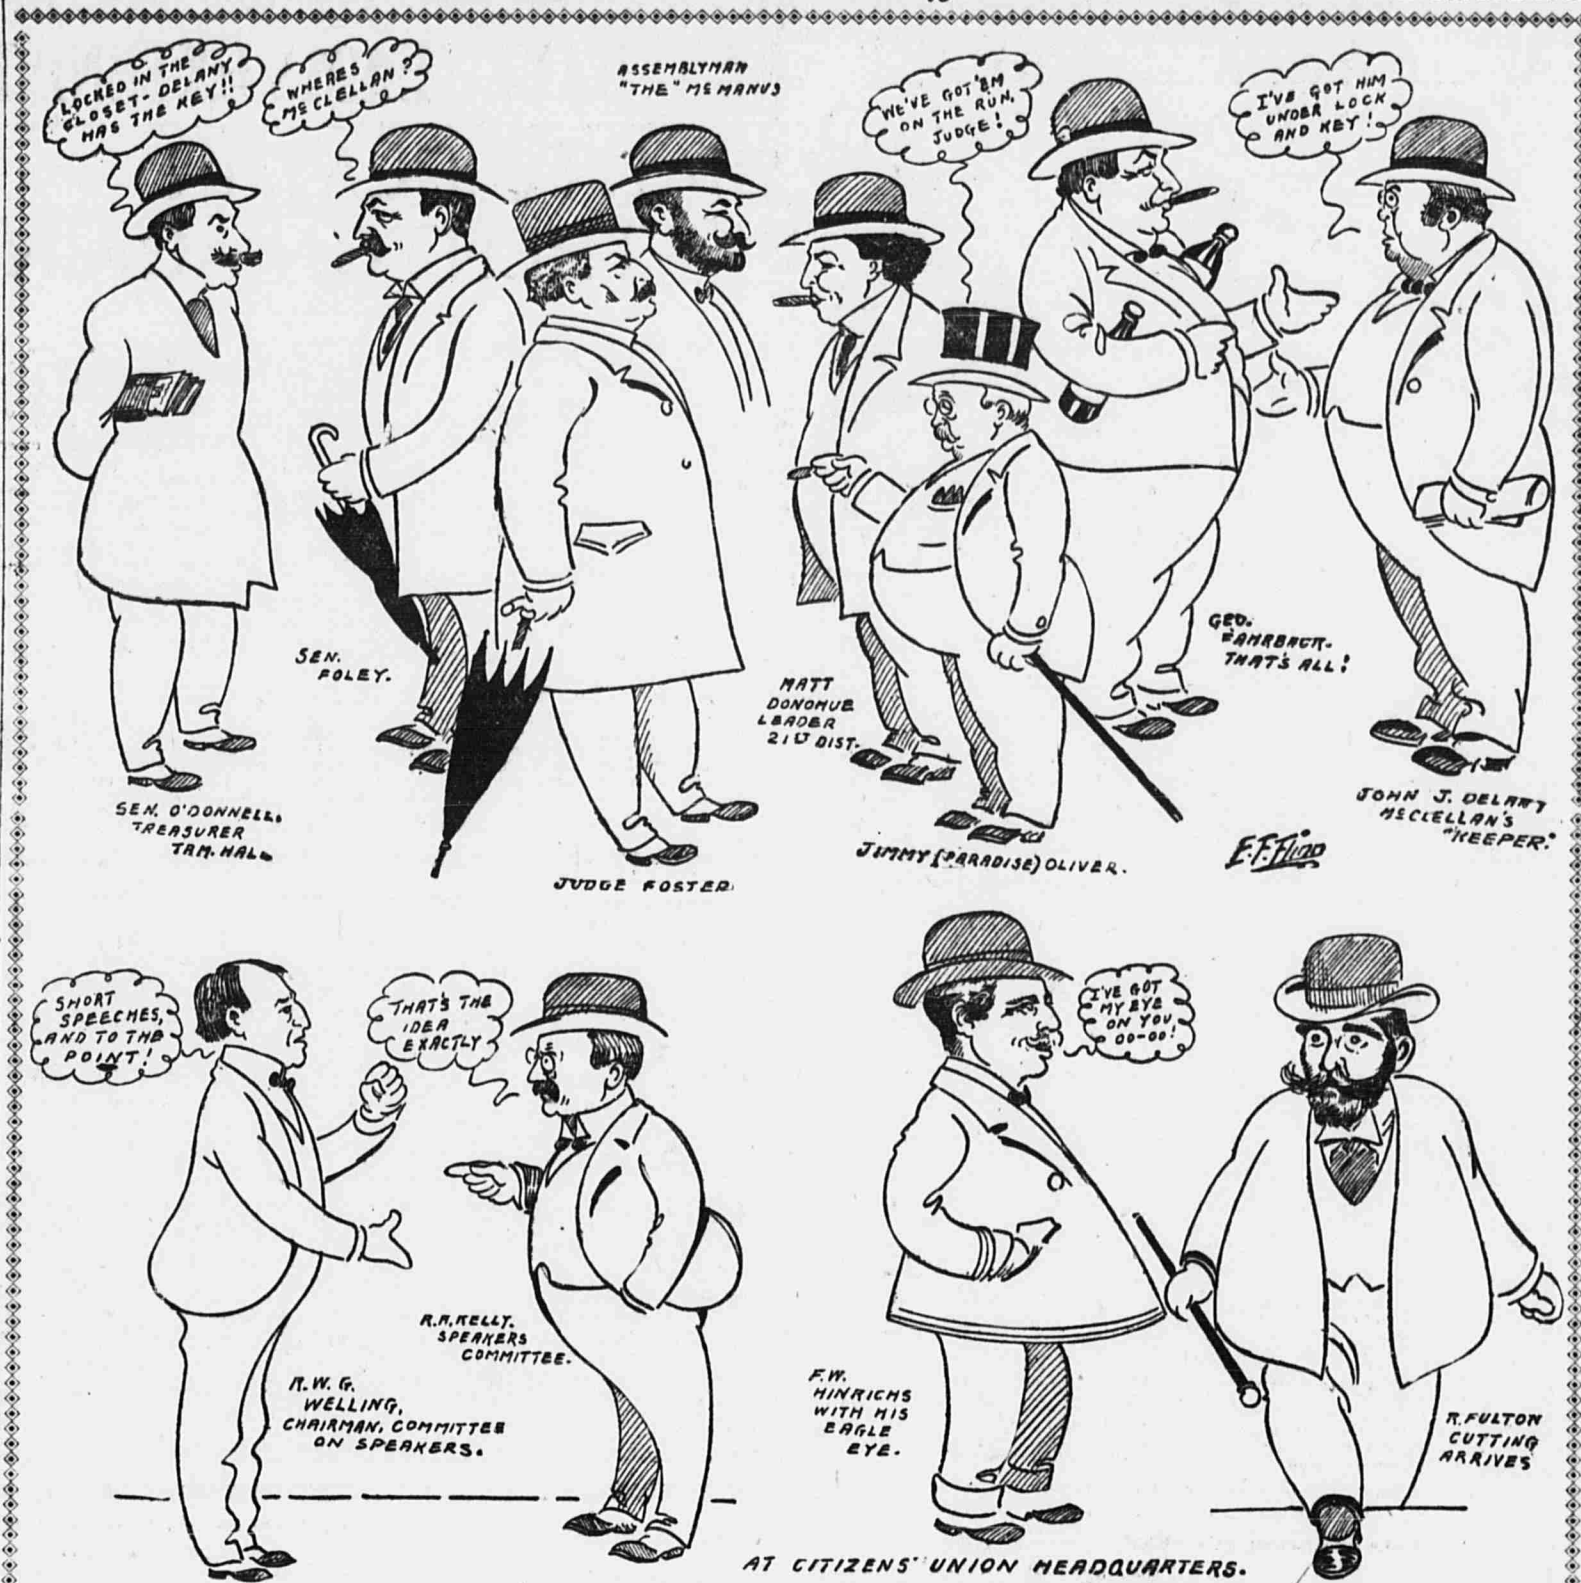

Might Get on Ticket.

And this is the milk in the political cocoon from which a Tammany viewpoint. Many of the leaders were saying to-day that the strength shown by the Grell movement might lead to the withdrawal of Mitchell Brainerd from the Tammany ticket. On this and every other feature of the Grell movement Mr. Murphy was mum to-day.

To his friends he said that when Mr. Grell's candidacy was broached he had told them that Tammany had given Mr. Grell a Tax Commissioner'ship and later the Sheriff'ship, which had paid him $10,000 annually in fees, and that the organization had done as much as it could for him.

Mr. Grell's independent candidacy originated with the Plattdeutsches Volkstheater Verein, an organization composed of one hundred and one allied societies, with a membership of ten thousand. It is claimed that the movement will be formally endorsed by the United German Societies, an alliance with a membership of thirty thousand, which controls indirectly almost as many more votes. Mr. Grell figures that he can poll 75,000 votes, which he says will be enough to elect him Sheriff of New York County in a three-cornered contest.

ment of the whole ticket. In districts where leaders have decided to stick to Wiloughby street it is said that the intention of Murphy is to take up some strong regular Democrat and have him record in place of the present leader.

Murphy proposes to do nothing rashly. He first thing he desires is to have it established that the Executive Committee is in favor of the whole ticket, and then if the leaders who oppose Groat and Fornes will have no claim for patronage in the distribution of plums after the election in case of success the rank and file of machineists in Brooklyn will come to the Tammany trough and take theirs.

MANY LETTERS TO GROUT.

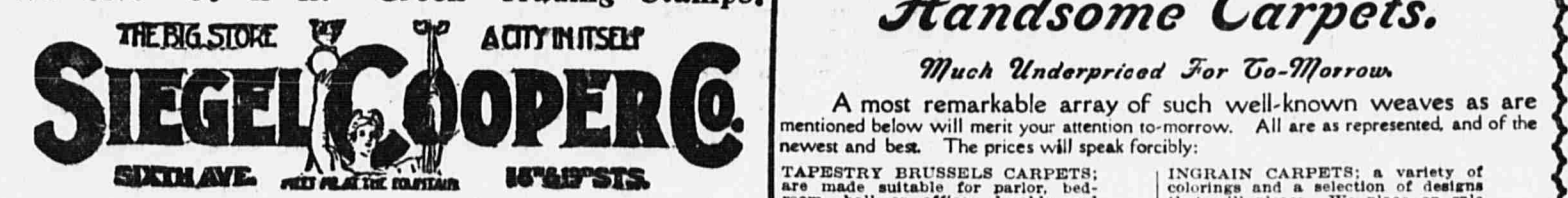

Republicans and Democrats, He Says, Compliment Him.

Comptroller Groat appeared in good spirits to-day. He said he had received many letters from friends of both parties congratulating him upon the stand he had taken, meaning his coming out in support of the Grell movement. He said that the Grell movement was in court the dropping of his name from the Fusion ballot.

"I have often found myself alone in this administration," said he "on important questions. So to be alone now is no new experience."

PRISONERS GET OUT ON FORGED PAPERS

President Roosevelt's Indorsements Secured to Documents Purporting to Have Been Signed by Army Officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 12.—James H. Darling, Joseph White, Cornelius Cokes and John L. Moore, military prisoners at Alcatraz, have been released by the authorities on pardons which it is now discovered were forged. These fraudulent pardons were sent through the ordinary course of a soldier's pardon, bearing the regular seals and stamps and approved by the President, but by whom and whose assistance the forgeries were perpetrated are questions not yet solved. It is believed, however, that the investigation now in progress will eventually clear up the mystery.

The four prisoners were sentenced to five years imprisonment and had more than two years unexpired term to serve. They were set at liberty Oct. 7 and were landed in this city on the Government steamer Gen. McDowell.

The signatures forged by the convicts were those of Major E. R. Hills, acting Assistant Adjutant-General at Washington; Major Henry M. Morrow, Judge Advocate of the Department of California, and Major J. R. Williams, Assistant Adjutant-General Department of California. In addition to these forgeries, the official stamps of the Department of California headquarters and of the judge advocate's office appear. The letter-head on which the pardon is typewritten seems genuine.

The irregularity of the document is admitted by both Major Williams and Judge Advocate Morrow, who say the signatures on the papers were not their own.
